

Council Votes Okeh for $2,808,756 Budget

Funds for Chamber May Be Hiked Later

City Council members rapidly passed a $2,808,756 budget last night, skirting proposed increases — and decreases—for the Chamber of Commerce.

At least one council member, Mary Carlin, favored a reduction of the chamber's $74,000 stipend by $10,000, which amount, she suggested should be applied to the new municipal golf course.

ANOTHER MEMBER Ted McKinney, wanted the chamber's allocation raised to $80,000.

But remaining council members took a firm stand on the budget, and its $1.41 tax rate, neither raising or decreasing a portion of it.

"What bothers me," said Councilwoman Carlin, "is that it will cost more than the $60,000 we have for gold course operation. I think we should take $10,000 from the chamber and give it to the golf course."

MRS. CARLIN'S remarks followed City Manager Dan Wagner's notes that the course has a $60,000 allocation financed by license fees and the chamber has a $10,000 increase over last year's appropriation.

"The chamber gets $74,000 this year," Mayor Frank Bogert remarked. "We may add more to that amount if money is available after the first of the year."

Chamber President Warren Slaughter urged the council to give the chamber "the maximum amount allowed by law," and McKinney suggested a raise to $80,000.

"WELL," WAGNER interjected, "we will have to depend on fees for the golf course maintenance. We may have to dip into reserves if necessary, which would affect next year's tax rate."

"I sure hope the course produces money," Mrs. Carlin mused.

Councilman George Beebe entered the discussion with the remark that "we hire them (the chamber) to promote the city and they've done a remarkable job with the little money they've received."

THE COUNCIL then acted unanimously to approve the budget, which has been alternately cut and increased — and finally raised by some $20,000 — in recent weeks. It is now $28,370 higher than last year's.

Ironically neither council members nor city administrators were able to actually pin down the final budgetary amount on which all had voted.

The elusive figure, $2,808,756, was reported by city officials this morning. It was explained last night that the exact figure was cloudy because of the various changes enacted during prior budget discussions.

CVSLA, 6 OTHERS IN STOCK CHANGE

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Coachella Valley Savings and Loan Association of Palm Springs was one of seven California associations named today in an announcement of stock issuance under an overall holding company.

Kidder, Peabody and Company of Los Angeles, announced that a new issue of 230,000 shares in capital stock of Palm Springs Valley Federal Inc., a holding company which effected a multi-million dollar combination of seven California savings and loan associations.

THE BROKERAGE firm listed the stock at $1 par value with a tangible book value of approximately $11.30 a share. As of Feb. 28, 1959, Kidder, Peabody and Co. said, undivided profits of the subsidiary savings and loan associations totaled $167,671.

In the transaction, which was cleared by the California state corporations commissioner and registered with the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission, Financial Federation stock was exchanged on a varying ratio with stock in the seven savings and loan associations.

THE ASSOCIATIONS involved are: Atlantic of East Los Angeles; Community of Compton; Prudential of San Gabriel; Coachella of Palm Springs; Sequoia of Fresno; Midvalley of Marysville; and Lassen of Chico.

Robert M. Stockman, security analyst with Kidder, Peabody and Co., said the seven savings and loan associations involved in the transaction would continue to operate on an autonomous basis at the local level.

Tropical Storm Cindy Goes Inland, Losing Force Rapidly

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI) — Tropical storm Cindy moved inland today, leaving behind at least one dead but only minor property damage in a half-hearted blow at the South Carolina coast.

The storm, whose peak winds barely reached 75 miles an hour — 74 is the minimum for hurricane classification — diminished before moving inland in the Bull Bay-McClellanville area north of Charleston late Wednesday night.

A SPECIAL WEATHER advisory issued by the Miami Weather Bureau said rough seas with tides two to three feet above normal from Georgetown to Cape Fear are gradually subsiding.

The bureau said the storm was estimated to be about 33 miles north of Charleston. The storm is moving northwest about eight miles an hour and is expected to maintain its present forward speed for the next 12 hours but with a gradual turn more to the north, the bureau said.

MAXIMUM WINDS may still reach 50 miles per hour in squalls extending outward some 175 miles northeast of the center, but they will diminish today. The bureau said the storm has continued to weaken after going inland.

Winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour cracked tree limbs and broke a few windows but did not do heavy damage. Rainsqualls accompanied the storm and Henry H. Higgins Jr., of Georgetown, S.C., was killed when his automobile skidded and hit a tree in the area near where the storm's center hit the coast.

Tides, which had been expected to go as high as 10 feet above mean low water, were highest in the Georgetown area, reaching 6.2 feet above mean low.

Rival Las Vegas

Legal Gambling Asked for Village

A Palm Springs City Councilman last night urged the city to take action that would make the resort a high class rival for Las Vegas.

City Councilman Ted McKinney suggested that a controlled, legalized gambling industry here would firmly establish Palm Springs as one of the world's leading resorts.

MCKINNEY, RE-AFFIRMING statements he made at Tuesday's City Council luncheon meeting, said he thought the city should establish gambling on a "grand scale," comparable to Las Vegas.

"I don't mean little card parlors," he explained. "I think we should have plush casinos like the Dunes and other spots in Las Vegas."

McKinney's statements Tuesday followed discussion of a deficient city ordinance regulating gambling.

"I THINK CONTROLLED gambling would be the greatest thing to hit the city," he mused last night. "I think it should be a matter of local option, and I believe there's such a measure before the state legislature right now."

The veteran councilman said his ideas on gambling also included legalized "bookie" shops for the horse trade.

"On second thought, you better make that legalized 'pari-mutuel' shops," McKinney said to a Desert Sun reporter. "That sounds a lot better."

MCKINNEY EXPLAINED that such establishments would vastly increase city, and, incidentally, state revenues.

"There's no reason why the race tracks should get all the business when we can handle a lot of it right here," McKinney added.

Death Toll In Sinking Goes to 53

Sightseeing Boat Explodes, Burns; Passengers Panic

HADERSLEV, Denmark (UPI) — The death toll in the explosion and sinking of an overcrowded sightseeing boat rose to 53 today. Police feared frogmen would bring up even more bodies from the bottom of the artificial lake on which the tragedy occurred.

At least 30 of the dead had been identified and it was established six were foreigners. Police said "It was believed" there were 45 or "perhaps more" survivors of the sinking Wednesday. At least 35 persons were injured.

THE SIGHTSEEING boat Dam Ende was raked by flames following an explosion below decks. Men, women and children fell into screaming panic and the crew was unable to get to life preservers stored under seats.

Some were hit by the explosion and flaming gasoline; others were burned when the raily striped canvas awnings covering the decks burst into flames and collapsed on them.

THE BOAT BLEW up Wednesday afternoon while cruising on the artificial lake formed by Haderslev dam in South Jutland near the German border. Crew members said the blast was caused by gasoline from a leaking fuel line dripping onto the hot engine.

Authorities said the boat was slightly overcrowded. They said its capacity was 85 but that it had at least 90 persons aboard.

Capt. Hans Riistofte, the boat's owner, tried to head it to shore but it sank less than 15 yards from shallow water.

JENS JENSEN, one of the survivors, gave this account: "I know a little about engines and heard how it mis-fired a couple of times, but I did not actually think anything serious was going to happen. Then suddenly a yellow spiffie licked out from the engine and Hans Riistofte . . . sounded the alarm."

"The panic cannot be described," Riistofte tried in vain to reach the lifeboats which were stored in benches and boxes. The passengers got in his way all the time. Several of them jumped into the water and I did the same thing myself.

Long Reported 'Failing Rapidly'

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — A high state official reported Wednesday night Gov. Earl K. Long was "failing rapidly." A team of six doctors said the Louisiana governor "seems more fatigued than he has been prior to this time."

On the other hand, a state legislator said "he's not as bad off as reports say."

POLICE TELEPHONE SAME IN MOVE TO NEW BUILDING

The complete facelifting Palm Springs Police facilities will undergo when the department moves into its new quarters in Civic Center on Monday does not include a change in telephone number. Chief Gus Kettmann said today.

The chief stressed that the move to Civic Center would not bring the department under the City Hall telephone exchange.

"Our number—Fairview 5-2144—will continue to function as the official number for the Police Department," he said. The number for city offices is FAirview 4-1131.

Firemen End Uranium Fire Scare Today

179 Drums on Burning Boxcar Excite Town

LYNDON, Kan. (UPI) — A railroad boxcar containing 179 drums of uranium concentrate caught on fire here today and excited this community of some 800 persons with thoughts of radioactive contamination for several hours before the blaze was put out and all danger passed.

Actually, the Atomic Energy Commission said, there was little danger at all.

F. M. TYBOL, CHIEF administrator for the AEC's Kansas City area, said the uranium powder was low in radioactivity and could be washed off without danger.

Another AEC official in Grand Junction, Colo., Cecil Renault, said there was little danger unless the powder was inhaled or swallowed.

Nevertheless, the smoldering boxcar on a Missouri Pacific siding some two miles north of here was handled gingerly by fire-fighting teams.

HUNDREDS OF SPECTATORS were attracted and the Highway Patrol, with the help of local authorities, kept an area cleared within 500 yards of the boxcar. Cars lined U. S. 75 at the scene some 30 miles south of Topeka, Kan.

Two fire trucks brought in from Forbes Air Force Base at Topeka attacked the blaze about 10:30 a. m. (p.d.t.). It was first discovered at 6 a. m.

THEY USED A FINE mist of water rather than chemicals and let the steam resulting smother the fire. Crews in black asbestos suits and helmets then opened the doors of the car only to have more smoke roll out. Assistant Fire Chief Gale Dunaway investigated the interior of the car after it was drenched again and reported that the fire was out and that none of the 55-gallon drums had sprung a leak.

Special Session Due ?

Foreign Aid Cuts Gain Senate Okeh

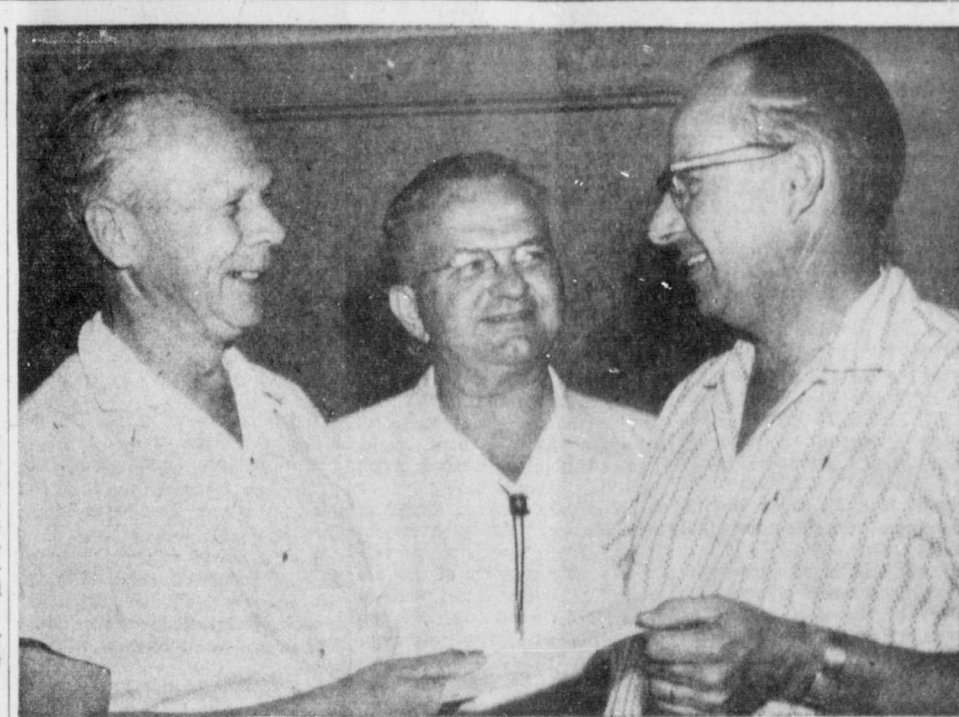

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress apparently settled today on a bill authorizing about $3,500,000,000 in foreign aid, for the next 12 months.

Any hope President Eisenhower has of getting more new rests with a House-Senate conference committee. He originally asked for $3,909,400,000.

THE SENATE DEALT the President a sharp setback Wednesday night by passing a $3,543,320,000 aid measure, only $720,000 more than the House voted. The Senate vote was 65-26.

Even after Congress authorizes the expenditure, it still must appropriate the actual cash. Foreign aid funds voted during the last fiscal year totaled $3,298,092,500.

THE SENATE action came only hours after the President raised the threat of a special session if

The Cathedral City Lions have sponsored Boy Scout Troop 81 and Cub Pack 81 for more than a decade, and will campaign within their membership and in the community to raise the $1,000 pledge total. City officials last night launched a search for an "experienced manager" to oversee operations of the new "Palm Springs Golf Course."

Council Seeks Experienced Golf Course Manager

City officials last night launched a search for an "experienced manager" to oversee operations of the new "Palm Springs Golf Course."

City Council and golf committee members agreed that the best system of golf course supervision would be a full-time manager answerable to the city manager and the council.

IN A STUDY SESSION prior to the council's formal meeting, council members viewed three alternate suggestions of golf course management recommended by the golf committee.

The suggestions ranged from management of golf course affairs jointly by the council and city manager to management by the committee, directed by the council.

BOTH COMMITTEE members and councilmen finally agreed to hire a manager. The course manager will work under the city manager and the City Council will determine policies to be carried out by the administration.

"You can say we're now looking for an experienced golf course manager," Mayor Frank Bogert later told newsmen.

GOV. BROWN SIGNS WATER BOND ISSUE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today signed a $1,750,000,000 bond issue to start construction of one of the largest single water projects in the history of man.

He described it as the "crowning achievement" of the 1959 Legislature.

FINAL APPROVAL of the water bond issue, however, rests with the electorate in 1960. Brown urged voters to listen to arguments on both sides and "listen critically."

"My signature today does not itself insure the creation of the great water program which California so urgently requires," he said.

"We should all remember that there are those among us who will always find a difficulty for any solution."

"THIS, I AM CONFIDENT, is a solution — a great solution worthy of the greatness of this state and its peoples."

THE water bond legislation, sponsored in the Legislature by Sen. Hugh Burns (D-Fresno) calls for the bond issue to finance water development in California to the end of the century.

It will establish a web of canals to take water from Northern California to the thirsty southland. Brown called it comparable in scope to the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Central Valley Project.

THE KEY TO THE project is a dam at Oroville on the Feather River. It will be the highest dam in the United States at 735 feet. "This will remove the last great obstacle to California's full growth and prosperity," the governor said. "By 1985, this project will be serving areas with a population of 21 million out of an estimated total state population of 35 million — more than twice the present population of California."

4 Killed as Truck Rams Parked Car In Dust Storm

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI) — A truck-trailer rammed a parked car during a blinding dust storm early today, killing four persons and injuring another.

Kenneth Jerry Smith, 23, Alpine, Calif., stopped his car about five miles west of here on Route 84 about 3 a. m. when visibility dropped almost to zero in the swirling dust.

Runaway Truck Crash Kills Man

EL CENTRO (UPI) — An El Centro cattleman suffered fatal injuries Wednesday when he jumped from a runaway truck-trailer on U. S. Highway 80.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A summer heat wave hit Los Angeles Wednesday, pushed the temperature up to 92 to tie the year's high and is expected to bring a high of 95 degrees today.

Moderate smog which covered the basin area will return again today to plague residents, according to the Air Pollution Control District.

Hot weather covered many nearby cities with Arcadia reporting a high of 83, Moorpark 92, Glendale 94.

WEATHER

Desert area forecast: Considerable high cloudiness today and Friday with scattered afternoon and evening showers. Continued hot. Highs today 96-106 upper valleys, 106-116 lower valleys. Yesterday's high was 113, the low 67.

City or Municipal

Council Decides On Course Name

City Council members, divided on the use of the word "Municipal," last night christened their new municipal golf course as "The Palm Springs Golf Course."

A 4-3 ballot on the new title capped a two-week-old debate on whether the word "Municipal" should be included in the name for the 18-hole course acquired in a lease agreement approved June 30.

THREE CITY COUNCIL members last night firmly defended their position that the course entrance should carry a sign emblazoned with the word "Municipal" so everyone will know it's a public course.

"We should let travelers know that this is a public course," said Councilman Leonard Wolf.

"We can't take a chance that

2 Viet Nam Guards Die In Ambush

Communists Flee Counter-Attack by Viet Nam Troops

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — Communist terrorists bombed a U.S. military advisory group billet during the showing of a movie Wednesday night, killing two U.S. officers, two Viet Namese and one of the attackers.

The attack occurred at Bien Hoa, 20 miles north of Saigon, the American Embassy reported.

A THIRD AMERICAN officer was wounded in the bomb attack which was followed by an exchange of gunfire between Viet Namese guards and the Communist raiders.

The Americans killed in the attack were Maj. Dale R. Buis, Imperial Beach, Calif., whose widow is Mrs. Virginia Buis, and M. Sgt. Chester M. Ovnand, Coppers Cove, Tex.

Capt. Howard B. Boston, Blairburg, Iowa, was wounded. FIVE TO 10 MEN armed with small weapons and a home-made plastic bomb struck from the nearby jungle against the American billet located at Bien Hoa, 20 miles north of Saigon.

They threw the bomb, aiming at a window.

It bounced back, killing one of the attackers. He has been identified definitely as a Communist.

THE REMAINING attackers then opened fire with small arms which included some automatic weapons.

Vietnamese guards returned the fire, forcing the terrorists to flee to a nearby river.

The South Vietnamese army then moved quickly into the area, searching the countryside for suspects and making several arrests.

IT WAS NOT immediately clear whether the Americans were victims of the bomb or the ensuing exchange of gunfire. Some reports said they were killed by the gunfire.

The officers were part of the large American military assistance group sent into South Viet Nam after that country became independent five years ago.

Seven Mercury Astronauts Report Enjoying Training

EDITOR'S NOTE: The National Aeronautics and Space Administration for the first time has permitted reporters and photographers to visit its 710-acre 150 million dollar Langley Research Center at Hampton, Va., where the seven Mercury astronauts are training for the manned satellite program. Following is a progress report on the Mercury project.)

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press International
LANGLEY RESEARCH CENTER, Va. — (UPI) — The seven Mercury astronauts training for one of the most eerie and hazardous adventures man has been called on to undertake — a trip into unknown outer space — know how it feels to float weightless in air or to spin wildly at high speeds.

They have experienced these extremes of gravity; weightlessness, or zero gravity, and the pull of the centrifuge, 25 times that of normal gravity. They know other extremes; that of the ocean's pressure deep underwater and of the laboratory pressure chamber.

THEY ALSO HAVE experienced the horror of eating baked potatoes minus the skins and with nothing but a thick steak to solace them.

They have tumbled ludicrously during periods of weightlessness, of zero gravity, such as will be the standard operating condition of space travelers. They have gone skin-diving in the weird other-world of the sea.

THEY HAVE BEEN immersed in pressure chambers, made to serve as guinea pigs to test special "low residue" space diet (minus potato skins), put through exhausting medical studies, subjected to innumerable scientific lectures. They have been quizzed, probed, and watched like so many laboratory specimens.

Constantly in the past four months it has been impressed upon them that one day, about two years hence, one of them will undertake a strange journey from which he can hope to return safely only if a multitude of operations and gadgets work as planned.

HOW ARE THE astronauts standing up? How do they look? How do they feel? How do they like each other after being herded together for months? How do they like their space mentors and medical tormentors?

The one-word answer to all these questions is: fine. These men, ranging in age from 32 to 37, are bronzed, lean, healthy, keen-eyed and, to all outward seeming, happy.

HOW IS IT WHEN weightlessness takes over and the pit of the stomach loses its anchor to earth "A lot of fun." What's it like to be whirled in a centrifuge until the forces tugging at you are 25 times the normal pull of gravity "An extremely interesting experience; I wouldn't have missed it."

These men are training for perhaps the most eerie and hazardous adventure modern man has been called upon to undertake. But, though serious, there is nothing grim about them. A lecturer remarks that "we have a reasonable hope of getting the astronaut back alive."

The astronauts were picked early this year from 32 of the nation's finest military test pilots to train for the manned satellite program, dubbed Project Mercury, which was kicked off last October by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

BUT ACCORDING to the project director, a naturally conservative 45-year-old named Robert R. Gilruth, "we have no accomplishments to report — just plans and first steps."

"We do not need any new scientific breakthroughs," Gilruth said. "We do," however, expect many difficulties and surprises as the program develops."

But he believes the astronauts have a better chance than some pioneers of the past. Recalling Charles A. Lindbergh's 1927 flight to Paris in an overloaded single-engine plane that almost didn't get off the ground, he observed: "These boys will have a better chance than he did."

ARTHUR ROSS-JONES

'Cinderella' to Be Given Friday at Redlands Bowl

REDLANDS — The first of three operas to be presented by the Redlands Bowl this summer—Rossini's "Cinderella"—will be given, at 8:15 p.m., Friday, in the centrally-located outdoor amphitheater.

Canadian tenor Arthur Ross-Jones will sing Ramiro to Margery MacKay's title role.

Other featured singers include Michael Andor, Dandini; Owen Gruber, Don Magnifico; Barbara Ludwig, Clorinda; Joy Carroll, Thisbe, and John Nochesse, Alidoro.

The staging of the opera is under the direction of Glynn Ross with Curtis Stearns conducting the accompanying Redlands Bowl Symphony Orchestra.

Corps de ballet is under the direction of Serge Leslie and Doris Niles. Sally Sinkovec and Diane Yates are featured in the ballet corps.

There is no admission charge to the productions of the Redlands Bowl.

Harriman Calls For Summit Meet in U.S.

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Averell Harriman said today he hopes a summit conference will be held in the United States so that Russian Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev can see this country for himself.

Harriman arrived home at 11:35 p.m. (p.d.t.) from a Russian visit and an interview with a tough-talking Khrushchev. He said he would go to Washington Friday to report on the meeting to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

HARRIMAN SAID he thought that "no one makes an accurate report to Khrushchev" on the United States and in any case, "you cannot learn about the United States through someone else's eyes."

He told newsmen who met him at Idlewild Airport that he believes a summit conference is necessary because Khrushchev "is calling the signals for foreign policy."

"WHENEVER THERE are loaded weapons there are dangers," Harriman said. "The situation is dangerous, and therefore I think Khrushchev should be informed face to face of our position."

Harriman said he was glad Nixon is going to Moscow and "I hope he will have some influence."

The former New York governor and wartime ambassador to Russia said in London Wednesday night that he was of the opinion that Khrushchev "wants to come to the United States and come face to face with the Western leaders."

"There is no better place than New York to hold any meeting," he said.

John Ledwon to Present Playhouse Bowl Program

BANNING — Fresh from his appearance as a guest soloist at the dedication of the new Los Angeles Memorial Sports Arena, John Ledwon, nationally famous 17-year-old organist, will present a program of classical, semi-classical and popular numbers on the Hammond organ in the Playhouse Bowl at the giant Boy Scout Jamboree program and in the Biltmore Bowl at an affair honoring the Swedish ambassador, with Edgar Bergen acting as master of ceremonies.

This is the fourth of the summer series of "Evenings in the Park" which will be presented throughout the summer season on the big outdoor stage in the Bowl.

MOST RECENT appearances of John Ledwon were at the Hollywood Bowl at the giant Boy Scout Jamboree program and in the Biltmore Bowl at an affair honoring the Swedish ambassador, with Edgar Bergen acting as master of ceremonies.

In the six years since he began the study of the organ, Ledwon, formerly of Desert Hot Springs, has achieved an enviable record even for organists of mature years and wider training. To date he has made over 200 appearances including TV and radio. He has traveled across the country four times to play at the White House Christmas Pageant, Radio City Music Hall, Madison Square Garden and at other auditorium and convention halls.

BESIDES PERFORMING at the Grand Organ in Radio City Music Hall John has played the world's largest pipe organ in Wanamaker's, Philadelphia, Salt Lake Tabernacle organ, Spreckles organ at Balboa Park, San Diego and Shrine Auditorium.

He has been featured at Disneyland, National Orange Show, Los Angeles County Fair and at international, national and state conventions of Elks, Lions, Realtors, American Legion, U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and scores of others. He has been seen and heard on U. S. and Canadian radio and TV shows, among which were Eleanor, Powell's Emmy Award winning TV show, Voice of America, Monitor, NBC and others.

One week later, Thursday, July

16, the colorful High School Talent Show will be staged in the Playhouse Bowl to be followed on Thursday, July 23, by the "Hollywood Stars of Tomorrow"—with a cast of 100 singers, dancers and musicians presented by the renowned Robin Hood Band.

Master Communications System Is Installed in New Police Building

Combines All City Facilities

The most flexible communications system in the resort area will go into operation here when the new Palm Springs police building opens next week.

This is a new private automatic branch exchange telephone system, known as PAEX in the trade, installed at the police facility by the California Water and Telephone Co.

COMPANY OFFICIALS said this system, "the most complete and flexible in the resort area," combines all telephonic communications for city offices and police departments in one master switchboard.

It provides, for the first time, direct and automatic (meaning dial operations) communications between the various city offices, police and fire department offices.

All these offices and departments, it was explained, will be tied into one system handled by a master switchboard at the police communications center.

THIS FORM OF automation reduces personnel required — ordinary PBX systems would require operators at both city facilities — and increases efficiency by expediting inter-departmental calls.

Offices in each building are now able to dial direct calls to other offices served by the system, cutting down the task of the operator.

THE SYSTEM ALSO provides direct lines between police and fire offices.

With one central control point, the city communication system offers faster service for all caller and improves coordination of emergency departments, company officials said.

The switchover to the new PAEX system is expected to take place when the police building opens Monday morning.

THOUSAND PALMS

By ELIZABETH NELSON

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Halle and their two young daughters, Karen and Patricia, returned on Monday to their home in Los Angeles, after having spent a week's vacation at their new home on Calle Helene in Shangri-La Palms. All took full advantage of the desert's sunshine and returned to the metropolitan area with desert tans. The Halle report that their home was completed for them a month ahead of schedule, which fitted nicely into their vacation plans.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Claassen are new full-time resident property owners in Thousand Palms. Moving to this area from Riverside, they recently purchased the Thousand Palms Motel on Highway 99 from its original builders and owners, Mr. and Mrs. Orville McCann. (The McCanns, incidentally, moved to Riverside into the same neighborhood, but on the next street, from which the Claassens came.) Mrs. Claassen is a vocational nurse, and worked for several years at the Orthopedic Hospital in Riverside. A carpenter by trade, and currently engaged in that business in the desert area, Mr. Claassen is an ordained Baptist minister and is at present teaching the Adult Class at 9:30 o'clock Sunday mornings at the Thousand Palms Community Chapel.

Also new property owners who are full-time residents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Flickinger, who recently purchased a home on Date Garden Drive in Thousand Palms. The Flickingers came here from Tujunga.

Richard Bendick returned Monday to his work as "Trouble Shooter" with the California Water & Telephone Company in Palm Springs following a two-week vacation. Mr. Bendick's was mostly a vacation of work — on finishing the new two-bedroom and bath wing they have added to their home on Date Garden Drive — with occasional local excursions with Mrs. Bendick and their youngsters, Gregory, Roger, Luther, Tanya and young four-month-old Mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Sloper

recently enjoyed a week's visit from their favorite teenager, Miss Lois Erskine, and her friend, John Ostach, both of Long Beach. Miss Erskine is a niece of Mrs. Sloper, and is a frequent summer visitor in the Sloper home. Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Erskine of Long Beach, brought the young couple to Thousand Palms, but they returned last week by train and reported, by letter, that they enjoyed the train "from one end of it to the other."

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Lennie, and with others of the community one day last week were Mrs. Horace Wiley and daughter and son, Janet and Gary, of Mecca. They were accompanied by Mrs. Wiley's uncle, Gene Baas of Alameda. The Wileys are former residents of Thousand Palms. Their friends of this community were saddened to learn that Mr. Wiley, and his two brothers who live in Blythe, were called home to Texas last week by the death of their father.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Macpherson, Jr., and their youngsters, Dannie and Lorie, spent the Fourth of July weekend with Mrs. Macpherson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Lennie, in their Shangri-La Palms home. The Macphersons also visited with his parents, the Donald F. Macphersons, Sr., on their ranch near Indio.

Also down for the weekend of the Fourth, enjoying their Shangri-La Palms home, were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swain of the Los Angeles area.

A visitor to the community on Sunday was Matthew Simmons, one of the developers of the Shangri-La Palms subdivision in Thousand Palms.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Schaefer of Los Angeles spent the weekend of the Fourth in their Shangri-La Palms home. Mrs. Schaefer remained for a week's stay. She has only recently returned from a trip to Minneapolis, Detroit and Chicago, where she visited with sons and their families. In Lansing, Michigan, she "baby-sat" with her newest (11th) grandchild.

Dry Morongo Request Goes To Supervisors

The Dry Morongo Canyon route for Highway 187 as a freeway to connect U. S. Highway 60-70-99 to the Twenty-nine Palms Highway and Morongo Valley, chosen by the State Division of Highways several months ago, is still meeting bitter opposition.

In December of 1958 the Desert Associated Chambers of Commerce asked the Board of Supervisors to set aside their approval of the state's choice of route and ask the state to take a closer look at Little Morongo Canyon as a logical and practical route. No action was taken by the board.

THIS WEEK THE board received a plea from the Desert Highways Committee for assistance in paving the way for a public hearing in Sacramento.

"We contend that the evidence does not bear out the reliability of the state's evaluation," declared Dr. James Compton, president of the organization, "and we have undertaken the task of proving that the Little Morongo route is more suitable."

"WE ASK THAT you write to the highway commission recommending that the case be reopened to allow people an opportunity to present evidence to substantiate their claim that the Little Morongo Canyon route to the high desert is more meritorious than the Dry Morongo Canyon route," continued Compton.

"We assure you that our solicitation is purged of any imputation of ulterior motives," declared the doctor. "We believe that the highway through Little Morongo will better serve the traveling public, including the military, and within the scope of our ability we expect to press on and attempt to prove that our premise is correct."

C. V. KANE, DISTRICT engineer of the State Division of Highways, has claimed that the cost of rights of way and construction of a highway via Dry Morongo would be almost $2,000,000 less than the Little Morongo route.

Proponents of the Little Morongo route have argued that it would have fewer curves and would not have the flood hazards of Dry Morongo. They have claimed that construction costs for a four-lane highway through Little Morongo would be less than for a route through Dry Morongo which would be partly four-lane and partly two-lane.

The Desert Highways Committee request was referred by the Board of Supervisors to the road commissioner with instructions that he ask Kane to render a report on the present status of plans for the highway.

Howard to Give 'Saucer' Talk

A Palm Springs man who claims to have had contact with beings from other planets will be among the speakers at the first national convention this week of the Amalgamated Flying Saucer Clubs of America.

Dana Howard, of Palm Springs, will be one of 45 "contactees" who will speak at the two-day convention starting Saturday at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles.

More than 2,000 saucer-minded citizens are expected to attend a convention program that features lectures, demonstrations of interplanetary communications and various galactic exhibits.

The AFSCA is a non-profit organization, representing many of the world's 5,000 saucer clubs. Its principal purpose is research on the subject of flying saucers, interplanetary travel and communication.

Supervisors Should Help Secure Public Hearing On 29 Palms Route

That desert residents may yet have an opportunity to appear before a public hearing in support of the selection of the Little Morongo route for the new freeway to Twentynine Palms as opposed to the Dry Morongo route was indicated this week when Desert Hot Springs representatives asked the County Board of Supervisors to request such a hearing from the State Highway Commission.

No full public hearing was held in this vitally important matter prior to choice of the Dry Morongo route by the Commission. Inasmuch as the Supervisors waived a hearing in the apparent belief that there was no opposition, and has since discovered that proponents of Dry Morongo are plentiful and would have appeared if given advance notice, the only fair and right thing to do to correct the situation is to call for an official hearing.

Proponents of the Dry Morongo route have been working industriously to secure the hearing, and report that they have gained the support of Governor Brown and an indication from the highway commission that it would schedule a hearing in Sacramento providing only that the Riverside Board of Supervisors rescind the previous waiver action and present a new formal request for a hearing.

There should be no delay or hesitancy on the part of the Board in moving to rectify the omission or misunderstanding some months ago.

Certainly desert residents who are most affected by the choice or routes for the important new highways are entitled to present all facts, arguments, reasons and desires supporting the Little Morongo route to the Commission.

And it could be that reopening of the matter, and presentation of a convincing enough case might even result in reconsideration of the choice previously indicated by the Highway Department with resultant benefit to all parties concerned.

In any event certainly no "harm" can be done by holding a public hearing and it is incumbent upon the Board of Supervisors to take the proper action and assure the people of this district their "day in court" as requested and desired.

The Supreme Court '59--Northern View

WASHINGTON, D. C. The Supreme ended its session last month in the nature of a zebra—nobody in town is quite sure whether the body is still black with white stripes, or whether the body is undergoing a purification and is becoming white with some black still showing.

It was a judicial session in which the Court seemed to readjust some of its extreme positions against Congressional investigations and State sovereignty and also to retain some other positions on the opposite side.

IN THE BARENBLATT case, the Court at least modified the Watkins decision which many persons thought was an obstacle laid in the path of the House Committee on UN-American Activities and the Senate Sub-Committee on Internal Security.

In the Uphaus case, the Court at least reappraised the Sweezy and Nelson decisions in which a State's power to protect itself from sedition was upheld. And yet, in the Greene decision, the Court knocked flat the Government security program in Defense industries.

AND IN THE FRANK decision, the Court permitted a Baltimore health officer to be immune from the Constitutional prohibitions against unwarranted search-and-seizure, and did so on sociological grounds that sound unhappily like the 1934 school segregation decision.

What goes on here? At this writing the printed opinions are being pored over by hot-eyed scholars whose judgements (for such is the temper of our times) will be colored by their politics, geography, personal philosophies, birth, breeding and schooling. A reporter must sometimes box the compass of opinion when attempting to cover highly controversial matters. Some truth can be found in all directions.

FROM THE SOUTH, the opinion on the Supreme Court's recent session might be described as cheerful but skeptical optimism. Senator Herman Talmadge, (Ga.), a brilliant and even victorious critic, tells me that much of the Court's improvement lies in the recent addition of Justice Potter Stewart.

Talmadge voted against Justice Stewart's confirmation and does not regret it—but the Senator says that many of his lawyer friends who knew Stewart in college and Law School had predicted that he would alter the Court in a conservation direction. Talmadge feels that the Justice's freshman session justifies this joyful forecast.

ANOTHER SOUTHERN spokesman, Senator Sam Ervin (N.C.) who is a former Circuit Judge and an eminent commentator on the Constitution, feels that the Supreme Court is beginning to prove the merits of President Eisenhower's four appointments—all of whom were former Judges in the lower courts.

Presidents Roosevelt and Truman loaded the high bench with low-grade politicians, and President Eisenhower allegedly paid off a political debt by naming a Chief Justice who had no judicial experience and soon showed it. But Ervin believes that the other Eisenhower Justices—Harlan, Brennan, Whitaker, Stewart—have come out of the top drawer and have immensely improved the quality of the highest Tribunal.

AN IRON VEIN of "judicial discipline," says Ervin, has entered the mettle of the Court. To explain this phrase, the Senator referred me to a speech he had made in May, 1955, before an association of his legal Alma Mater, the Harvard Law School. On that date, Ervin noted that: "No member of the Supreme Court as it is now constituted, ever served as a judge of a court of general jurisdiction... ever served as a judge upon an appellate court in any one of the (then) 48 States... few have devoted their major efforts to the actual practice of law."

THE 1955 COMPOSITION of the Supreme Court had been anticipated, as the Senator pointed out, by two or more members of the Constitutional Convention. They feared that life-time appointments to a tribunal of last resort would vest too much power in one branch of Government. But Alexander Hamilton pooh-poohed the fear. Hamilton said that an American President would naturally select justices from those "few men... in society who will have the sufficient skill in the laws to qualify them for the station of judges."

Judicial discipline! It requires a jurist, in rendering decisions, to set aside everything except the Law itself. His personal beliefs, his political background, his social and fraternal orders must be held in check. So, if the Eisenhower Court is improving, says Sam Ervin, that is because the recent Justices have been chosen from the "few men" of "sufficient skill" to do the vital and exacting work.

NEW RECORD

Prokofieff 'Captures' Shakespeare

Prokofieff, Boston Symphony Orchestra, Charles Munch, conductor. RCA - Victor Records, $5.95.

I had a discussion with two musically interested acquaintances regarding the setting to music of dramatic efforts by composers. I suppose that there are selections predating Goethe's "Faust" that have been greeted with great gusto by composers just as there will be works dating later than Tolstol's "War and Peace."

The summary, as we had it, was that only one of these works by literary giants had been given its just due in translation to musical presentation. The work was Prokofieff's "Romeo and Juliet."

AT THAT, IT WASN'T the composer's fault that it turned out well. Serge wanted to revamp the ending of his ballet so that Juliet revived in her tomb to Romeo's embraces and the pair danced a joyous finale to the work. Prokofieff's suggested ending was abandoned and we now have a version of "Romeo and Juliet" that is not only an exciting ballet but a valid musical experience as well.

MUNCH AND THE Boston Symphony seem to express the essential validity of the work as well as any orchestra I've heard and somewhat better than most. There is an almost patriotic declaration by the orchestra in the Street Awakening (Scene 1, No. 2) that is followed—and the recording is faithful in reproducing the excerpts so that most of the continuity is preserved—by a deluge of other picturesque scenes from the ballet.

THERE ISN'T ONE of these excerpts that isn't vital, isn't

QUOTES

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Willie D. Jeffries, 65, who had just wed Mrs. Frances Pipher, 74:

"What's so unusual about getting married at 65? We can get around just as well as anybody else."

packed with the impact of Shakespeare's work.

Some of the other excerpts that are particularly exciting are the "Montagues and Capulets" which sets forth a convincingly grim, thoroughly faithful capture of the Bard's idea in drawing the departures between the two families, the "Death of Tybalt" in which the listener may virtually watch the slaying of the mercenary by Romeo, and the "Romeo at Juliet's Tomb" and "Juliet's Death" in which a climax is first achieved, then followed with a broad and stirring re-climax.

THERE IS ALWAYS going to be some amount of discussion when a work of a master is expressed by any other idiom (art to music, music to drama, drama to art, art to literature, etc.) but it is safe to declare in regard to this Munich-led description of Prokofieff's reaction to Shakespeare:

This is brilliant art, doubled and redoubled by two (if not three) masters. It is a worthy addition to anyone's record collection.

—George Laine

Can He Keep Smiling Through '60?

This Side of The Sun By Phat

Tonight I'm roaming Far, far from home. Just sitting, looking in a U. P. Dome

In my customary off-key, off-beat, untuneful manner, I have been whistling, crooning and humming "Sentimental Journey" for three days. Drawing some unsentimental comments.

AM LOOKING FORWARD, though, with wild anticipation, like it says in the song, to that "all aboard."

Although, come to think about it, they don't shout that anymore. They expect you to be put before they ease out of the station.

In a few hours I will kiss my wife, this old Woodstock typewriter, the two of them my closest companions for many years, and possibly some female friends of Mrs. G. goodbye at the Union Station.

EVERYTHING is packed, even the 18-inch shoe-horn which saves me the trouble of bending over when I shoe myself. I thought, maybe, that should have been kept out. To be used to ease me into that little room in the corner of the Pullman bedroom.

But after being advised that I'd look silly wondering about the depot carrying a long, green shoe-horn, I decided to take a chance with that cubicle.

SO THE STATE is going to put up more signs on Highway 111 where the divided highway suddenly is constricted into a narrow two-laner.

Anyway, a crash victim can't say he wasn't warned. Best part of the painting program, to me, is that plan for a white line gradually narrowing the southbound driveway so that the thighbound won't be so abrupt.

But I doubt if that 50-mile-per-sign will prompt many drivers to ease the pressure on the throttle.

WHILE MAKING with the sign language, why not a sign farther out on Highway 111: "Caution—Subject to high winds."

That would be of help to our many trailer-hauling friends.

SEE WHERE my old friend, Tom Holland, is going to retire—again.

First met Tom about 15 years ago. He came here from San Jose, his final J. C. Penny Company managerial job. He had been in business long enough, he said, he was going to retire and take it easy.

But retirement soon irked and it wasn't long before he was back in business having purchased the city's original general store from Carl Lykken who started it back in 1915.

NEWT HOTCHKISS was with him and in charge of the hardware department which was part of the firm's name.

It always sounded funny to me to hear women say: "Well, I've got to go to the hardware store to buy my husband some shorts and socks."

Well, anyway, I have it on Tom.

He's only retired twice. I'm looking forward to my fourth farewell appearance.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

The morning journals reach us beside the swimming pool in the valley of Carmel, Calif. We are vacationing, in a way, at Los Laureles Lodge. This was once a simple scatter built by a rich lady so she could live the simple life.

I had a simple stable attached for the simple horses. And about empty-ump simple rooms in case of house guests. Now it is a resort for us simple people. And I must say the way the rich live simply is simply great.

THE NEWS IS fine, everything is orbiting or about to. Vice President Nixon cut up a few touches with Deputy Premier Kozlov at a White House kaffeeklatch.

Such a fuss! White House reporters reported how the big wrangle took place. But when I read down through the story, it sounded like a pretty mild argument. I mean nothing was settled. And they said nobody was getting ahead of Dick Nixon.

IT ALSO SHOWED news was mighty scarce in Washington. What with the hot weather and all the Congressmen home miltting the constituents before the next elections.

I like this kind of news. The kind where nothing is happening. THE UMBRELLA BANK in New York ran out of umbrellas. That is interesting news.

The Long Island railroad fixed up a bank where you could borrow an umbrella when it rained. Well, the rail came and they didn't have enough umbrellas. And the people who ride the commute train didn't have sense enough to come in out of the rain. So the bank busted.

IN CHICAGO, a bunch of pigeons staggered down Rush street singing: "Lucky Lindy, the Eagle of the U. S. A." And other patriotic songs and offering to beat up cats.

This was investigated by the Animal Welfare League. You know what they found? They found somebody had drained anti-freeze from his car. They anti-freeze from his car. And the pigeons had been lapping it up and were boiled as owls.

This shows that news is pretty light in Chicago, too.

IF A CHICAGO DOG has political pull, he can get a low dog license number.

The Mayor's dog is No. 3. He comes behind a couple of powerful politicians who work in the collector's office where they sell dog licenses.

I imagine a dog with a low number could park by a fire-plug all day. And no policeman would stay to tag him.

SALT LAKE CITY reports that bobcat fur will be popular in Europe. Lots of bobcats around Salt Lake City and trappers are looking forward to this new industry.

When I was a growing boy on this Monterey peninsula, I was a trapper. I subscribed to outdoor magazines. The ads in the magazines said: "Make Big Money Trapping Furs."

I PAID THE $3.55 plus postage for a wire trap that trapped rare animals alive. Once I got my hand in it and had a terrible time getting it out. I also caught the neighbor's cat. I caught it twice. It was a dumb cat.

There were bobcats in the Carmel hills. But they never came close enough to the town for me to catch them. Nevertheless, I kept that trap oiled and ready and look back on my trapping days as a great experience.

AT THAT TIME the valley was quite wild and you could hear coyotes yip-yip at night. Then rich people decided there was a lot of simple life to be had.

They moved in and built simple mansions. And when we simple people moved after them, they moved somewhere else. And that's the news from Carmel Valley. Simply all the news that's fit to print.

EARL WILSON:

Carol Channing Will Spoof Musicals

NEW YORK — Carol Channing'll satirize Broadway's current "musical tragedies"—musical comedies without comedy—in her new night club act George Burns is staging... and in one number she'll become "Switchblade Bess."

Carol tipped me off to her spoof of the "West Side Story" type of show recently when I interviewed her on the Frank Blair-Don Russell NBC radio program.

"We're rehearsing here at the Tropicana," Carol said the other day from Las Vegas. "We break it in in the Louisville Amphitheater July 15—gonna make damn fools of ourselves before 5,000 people!"

Tennessee Williams should love it. After the opening song, "This Is a Damn Fine Funeral," comes a ballad, "Love Is a Sickness." Switchblade Bess does a Charleston finally in the happy death house. Just a barrel of laughs.

Marlene Dietrich'll be glad to know that Carol will give up her popular satire of Grandma "Legs" Dietrich.

A woman phoned, "Two For The Seesaw" and asked, "Would it be all right if I came to the theater in shorts." Box Office Man Jack Pearl lectured her fiercely. "Next," he said, "they'll want to come in bikinis!"

I picked up a whole new vocabulary listening to disc jockeys spinning Lu Ann Simms' record of "Do I Really Love You" (the one starting "Today is Monday" which Sluggo and I just happened to write.) Fred Robbins called it "the kookiest record of the week"; Jack Lacy "the ginchiest"; Peter Tripp says it's "from Coolsville"; Jerry Marshall says "It's real gonessville," and Wm. B. Williams says "It's for smart cats." Personally, I think it's just the end.

Walter Slezak tells of the psychodrama who became a lush—but still insists that all his characters be boiled water. A Broadwayite described the easiest way to diet: "Try living on my salary." ... That's earl, both.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

'Forever' Musical Fantasy?

HOLLYWOOD — Metro has sunk $600,000 so far into squeezing a script out of Mildred Cram's novel, "Forever," but the no luck—scripters can't beat the story line, a romance that deals with reincarnation. Novel, while beautifully written, is frowned upon by churchmen, especially the Roman Catholic Church.

Ex-MGM star Kathryn Grayson, however, is dicker with her old Alma MGM to turn it into a musical fantasy with the reincarnation theme soft-pedaled. Katy tells me, "It's the only story they have that could bring me back to work—if they don't do it I'd just continue staying home and clipping coupons."

SO THEY THOUGHT "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," would be a straight comedy. It won't. Joe Pasternak has ordered three songs written for it, including the title tune, to be sung by his star, Doris Day... Richard Haydn, incidentally, who hasn't made a movie in eight years, is returning to Metro to play the producer in Miss Day's "Daisies."

Arthur Freed will shoot most of "The Subterraneans" in San Francisco, site of Jack Kerouac's Beatnik novel, and if the good citizens of California's Bay City hear a rumble while the Freed crew is there, it won't be an earthquake—it'll be the four top name bands Freed is seeking to supply the blazin' Beat downbeats in the background.

A PRETTY TOURIST from Texas tackled Bob Mitchell in a Sunset Strip saloon—for his autograph. Bob, one of our most obliging stars when it comes to this sort of thing, grabbed the gal's autograph book and wrote, "How nice of you to choose to be a girl!"

It's Kirk and Kovak and Kim for Columbia's "Strangers When We Meet." Which is to say the Messrs. Douglas and Ernie K. and Miss Novak.

Joshua Logan winged out from New York to start "Tall Story," in which Hank Fonda's lovely daughter, Jane, gets The Big Break as Tony Perkins' leading lady. Logan loves everything about the script and cast (including Ray Walston, Marc Connelly and Anne Jackson, the latter being Mrs. Eli Wallach)—but not the title for the basketball story, despite its moderate success as a Broadway play. Hey, Josh, how about "Basketball Blues?"

MICHIGAN — STATE — football-turned-movie actor Billy Welles is scoring some permanent points with starlet Merry Anders. Anyone for orange blossoms?

Morton Da Costa is beating his brains out looking for a leading lady for "Saragoga," his stage-musical version of "Saragoga Trunk." O perfectionist got to be a "30-year-old Lena Horne." I wonder if he remembers the gal who played the gorgeous Creole in the movie—a Scandinavian named Ingrid Bergman.

A couple of dirty 'so-and-so's' busted the glass frames and stole the famous nude pictures from the Danny's Hideaway—men's room... Suzanne Storrs says sure, perfect marriages are made in Heaven, but who can wait that long.

From all the hullabaloo about Paulette Goddard going to Hollywood without clothes—due to shipping her wardrobe to Switzerland—you'd think she wore some.

Paulette made movies in towels before Brigitte Bardot. Directors were always finding new ways for her to take a bath. She had that well-scrubbed look... only she had it all over. While making a TV film in Hollywood, she'll borrow clothes from her mother, who lives there, and borrowed them like Khurshchev needs an enemy.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Rita Hayworth's asked for an accounting of the supposedly fabulous Aga Khan estate on behalf of dir. Princess Yasmine—and also warned Aly he'll never see his dir. as long as he uses diplomatic immunity to avoid paying support... Jackie Gleason denies wanting to get out of the play "Connecticut Summer," and says, "The Great Gleason is humbled before the courteous, generous conduct of all concerned, and lucky to be in the show."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Taffy Tuttle confided that she'd just met Rock Hudson and wanted to go through life under an assumed last name—his.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Walter Slezak tells of the psychodrama who became a lush—but still insists that all his characters be boiled water.

A Broadwayite described the easiest way to diet: "Try living on my salary." ... That's earl, both.

CHANNEL CHATTER — Peter Potter used to pick Dick Clark's records on his juke box. Now it's because ABC-TV outlet in Philadelphia turned down a deal to beam Peter's show, now being syndicated on film. Happened after the station received a complaint from the Clark camp that Peter's show is too much like Dick's. Personally, the only resemblance I can see is that both men play records; otherwise the shows are as different as "Peter Rabbit" and "Loila."

Ford is picking up the sponsors tab for Joanna Barne's new Bourbon Street Beat series so Joanna is looking for a buyer for her Volkswagen.

KIRK DOUGLAS is dicker heavyweights champ Ingemar Johansson for a star spot in Kirk's TV series, Tales of the Vikings, if that isn't typecasting for our new Viking Ring King what is?

Dino's is packin' in the tourists who've seen the Dean Martin restaurant plugged so much on the 77 Sunset Strip show and now comes Ben Hure to tell me he had to hire six extra waiters to handle the overflow crowd at his Santa Monica nightclub the weekend after that 100-minute plug he received on You Asked For It.

Suddenly Jack London's old novel of the 1900's "The Call of the Wild," is a vital as it was when it first appeared, selling the almost unheard-of (for these times) total of 1,500,000 copies in its first few months off the presses. And all because of its Alaskan background. Several times a movie (a Pathe silent in 1923 and a Fox "all-talkie" in 1935), it is being re-scripted by Stephen Longstreet and Jay Rosenberg.

SHERI ALBERONI, who played Ed Wynn's cute 11-year-old niece on Ed's Screen Gem series last season, has been signed by Columbia Pictures for a starring stint in "Gulliver's Travels," in which Kerwin Mathews plays Gulliver. Nice break for the youngster—it'll be filmed entirely in Spain.

Every now and then a writer comes up with an impossible situation to portray (as when Shakespeare moved Birnam Wood to Dunsinane, never dreaming the movies would come along some day and do it)—so along comes Revue Productions with a segment for one of its new Riverboat series in which a chimpanzee picks pockets! But never underestimate the ingenuity of a Hollywood proponent: they came up with diminutive Janos Prohaska, a pocket-picking clown who has been fooling circus customers for years with his quick-on-the-draw purse snatchings, to den a chimp's costume and do some wallet-lifting.

Songwriter Hugo Friedhofer spotted a small sports car stalled on the Hollywood Freeway and hollered, "Hey, buddy, what's the trouble—run out of flint?"

Katherine Finchy Has Lived Full Life--Teaching, Clubs

By HILLY CRAWFORD

Katherine Finchy was hired for her teaching job in Palm Springs because she smiled and said "I love the desert," when school board trustee Alvah Hicks warned applicants that the school he represented was on the desert . . . and she still feels the same way about it even though she now spends part of each year in Mexico.

Her first experience with the desert was with the Nevada desert and it was a far cry from Palm Springs, for Silver Peak had not a blade of grass a tree or a flower.

Born in Wabasha, Minnesota, where she went through the local school, graduating from high school in 1911, she came to California and attended Occidental College. With her B.A. in hand, she looked around for her first school and accepted a position at Silver Peak. When she arrived at that little mining town, it came as a shock to find that there was only one woman in town and that woman's three children were her only pupils.

She's probably a legend around Silver Peak, for on weekends she would go mining with the bearded miners, who treated her "as respectfully as an angel from heaven."

en," she recalls. At the end of the school year, when she left town, they declared a holiday and in their best bib and tucker, they stood with their hats over their hearts to say farewell to the School Mother, as they called her affectionately.

Having decided to get more schooling, Miss Finchy went to Berkeley to secure a secondary credential, and worked on a Masters' degree which she went to Chicago University to obtain some years later. That was an exciting year in Chicago with the World's Fair and both the Republican and Democratic conventions there. It was in 1935 that she went to Europe for three months.

When she first came to Palm Springs, she taught the 6-7-8th grades and first year of high school, about a dozen children altogether, in the little school that stood on Indian Avenue where Murray's Market is today. She taught there in 1922-24, going back to Kansas City to teach in 1925, when she decided she wanted to experience another mid-western winter. She stayed just that one year and then returned to Palm Springs, and was associated with the Palm Springs school district until her retirement in 1951.

Before the unification of the Palm Springs school district, she was superintendent of the Elementary District, and afterwards was assistant superintendent in charge of the elementary schools.

She has many memories of those early school days in Palm Springs, when this was really a Village. Among her pupils were numbered Harold and Milt Hicks, Martha and Cassie Bell, Jean Fuller, Frank Miller, the McKinney and Foidesy children.

Reminiscing of those days, Miss Finchy tells about the old hand press on which the students put out a 9x12 newspaper called "The Gleaner," and later, about 1925, two years before The Desert Sun was founded, the school children were printing the Desert Star and selling ads at a dollar an inch. Both school papers were preceded by Palm Springs' first publication, a newspaper put out by the Red Front Store.

It was Miss Finchy's children who staged the first Desert Circus that cleared the magnificent sum of $100, which was used to purchase a phonograph for the school.

That first Desert Circus had its own colorful parade, and those who were in it will remember the girls who were "bareback riders" on sawhorses pushed along the street by the boys.

Among the floats was one automobile that bore the school board members along the parade route. It carried the legend "The only perfect school board in captivity." Nellie Coffman, one of the trustees, rode on the running board and waved to the spectators as the car drove slowly down the street and went into the Desert Inn grounds to turn around.

A sensation in that first parade was "Big Red Mama," the red elephant which was the fantasy and handiwork of a room of Mexican children, who were taught by Mary McGlashen, who is now living at Palm Desert.

The Circus was held in Frances Stevens auditorium that night and there were assorted booths and a program. Miss Finchy recalls that Jimmy Rogers, son of the beloved comedian Will Rogers, was a tumbler and he had taught the boys a tumbling act that was a big hit.

When the Soroptimist Club was formed here in 1947, Miss Finchy was its charter president and she became deeply interested in the international side of the Club work and participated in its extension program. In 1952, after she had retired from her teaching career, she went to Copenhagen to attend the convention of Soroptimist International. She organized the first two clubs in Mexico, the one at Tijuana and the one at Mexicali.

Because of these experiences, and because she was determined to learn to speak Spanish and to become better acquainted with Mexican life, Miss Finchy enrolled in the University at Mexico City, where she studied Spanish and Mexican history, and lived in a Mexican home.

In Mexico City she organized another Soroptimist Club and interested her Palm Springs Club in assisting the sister Club with one of its school projects, by sending pencils, crayolas and paper.

Doing extension work for Soroptimist International, she visited Cuba; organized a club in Panama; and visited Lima, Peru, to present a charter.

Now vacationing at Arrowhead she goes to Idyllwild this month for the Institute Fiesta where she will be dean of women. Donna Cole, daughter of Don Cole, long-time teacher here, is attending the Institute-Fiesta, under the sponsorship of the International Soroptimist Club of Palm Springs.

Liking the people in Mexico and interested in the work she has started there, Miss Finchy leaves again this fall for an extended stay in Mexico City . . . but she has sand in her shoes . . . and she will be back.

While she is away, she is never forgotten for one of the Village's elementary schools bears the name of this woman who had a hand in shaping school history here . . . the Katherine Finchy Elementary School.

Margaret Truman Settled Down, But Not Settled Back

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Margaret Truman says she has "settled down, but not settled back."

The daughter of the former President Harry Truman sat down to bring herself up to date for this reporter, six weeks after the birth of her second son, William Wallace.

I asked her whether she was going to call quits to her acting and singing career, now that she and husband Clifton Danie, Jr., have two small sons underfoot.

"Certainly not," said the 35-year-old Miss Truman. "I have settled down, but I have not settled back. I start a tour in summer stock next month."

"My career philosophy hasn't changed in the three years we've been married. I take things as they come . . . accept jobs if my husband approves. My husband, children, come first."

She has done some television appearances, since the second baby arrived, and August 3, at Nvack, N. Y., she will open a four weeks tour of the straw hat circuit in the play, "The Happy Time."

"My cook and nurse can run things at the apartment," she said. "Clifton will be home at nights and I will be home on weekends."

Miss Truman proudly announced that older son Clifton, two, named for his father, a New York Times executive, "is talking a blue streak. He uses whole sentences. The other night I was fixing his supper and he kept yelling,

Fashionettes

United Press International

Any woman with a heart of gold soon can have legs to match. Christian Dior, New York, has introduced a lacy-textured stocking dipped in 24-karat gold, designed for cocktail and evening wear. Each pair comes in a gold satin gift case and costs $25. The stockings should be available in September.

The campus set will be kneedeep in patterns next term. The big trend in casual stockings is toward fanciful patterns in stretch nylon. Look for plaids in red and green on navy, white and charcoal on black, and lozen and black on red.

The silhouette for fall calls for a natural shape, with lifted and rounded bustline, marked waistline, gently curved hips and thighs. The shaping is achieved by foundations that control with a light touch. Girdles have new bands reinforcing fleshy areas of hips and thighs. Pantie girdles feature contoured back panels for a natural "uncorseted" look.

The belted tunic-length top is the newest fashion in summer clothes. About knuckle length, it has the look of a jacket with a slight flare in the peplum. It can be worn over a decollete sheath for daytime wear, then taken off for evening.

Leave closet doors and dresser drawers open occasionally to keep moisture from gathering and to stir up air already inside.

Musical Now Featured at Padua Hills

CLAREMONT — An outdoor musical followed by the Mexican version of a summer carnival is one of the outstanding attractions now being held at Padua Hills Theatre.

Jamaica as the post theatre fiesta is called brings patrons and The Mexican Players together for an interlude of fun and frolic amidst the famed olive trees of the area.

Manuel Vera, who shares the romantic lead in the current stage play "Xochimilco" with beautiful Ramona Abundiz, serves as master of ceremonies for the Jamaica Fiesta.

Singer Manuel Gonzales and musicians Juan Soto, Blas Romero Tellez and Gregorio Valadez also are featured in the outdoor activities, held six times weekly after each presentation of "Xochimilco" in the indoor theatre.

"Xochimilco" is staged at afternoon and evening performances each Wednesday and Saturday with a single staging each Thursday and Friday night.

Son of Retired Admiral Ends Navy Tour, Visits Here

The son of a retired Navy admiral turned Villager has been assigned to inactive status after two years of duty in the U. S. Naval Reserve and plans to seek a career in advertising in Los Angeles and Palm Springs.

He is Donald Wells, son of Rear Adm. and Mrs. Benjamin O. Wells of 325 West El Portal. The young officer, who saw both continental and foreign service with the Navy, is now in Los Angeles in pursuit of his advertising ambitions.

A graduate in advertising at the University of Southern California in 1957, young Wells was a member of the Naval ROTC at the school and won commission as an ensign upon graduation.

He was a supply officer — both ashore and aboard the aircraft carrier USS Hornet — and visited China, Japan, the Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands during his tour of duty.

In June, with his two-year tour of duty completed, Lt. (j.g.) Wells was assigned to an inactive status. He was with his parents in the Village — where he attended school — for approximately two weeks.

Dodgers Eye First In Milwaukee Test

McDevitt Gets Call to Mound Against League-Leading Braves

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—Southpaw Danny McDevitt 8-6 will try to pitch the Dodgers into first place tonight in the opener of a crucial three-game series with the Milwaukee Braves.

A win by the Dodgers and a San Francisco loss at Cincinnati would give Los Angeles a half-game edge over the two clubs which now hold top league positions by mere percentage points.

McDEVITT PITCHED a two-hit shutout against the Braves last month during a five-game series in the Los Angeles Coliseum, and he'll be trying to match that performance tonight when he goes against Brave hurler Joey Jay (3-5).

Jay was McDevitt's opponent in the shutout.

THE DODGERS captured three wins in that five-game series with the Braves, but so far this season are trailing 6-7 in games with Milwaukee. Last year when the Dodgers ended the season in seventh place they had managed to win more than half their games against the pennant-winning Braves.

The New York Yankees moved into a third place tie in the American League last night with an 11-5 win over the last-place Boston Red Sox. It was the only game scheduled in either major league.

Mayo Smith 'Out' As Cincy Manager?

By OSCAR FRALEY
PITTSBURGH (UPI)—It could have happened by the time you read this, but Mayo Smith is definitely on his way "out" as manager of the Cincinnati Reds with Freddie Hutchinson of Seattle favored over pitching coach Clyde King to succeed him.

The story behind the story is that General Manager Gabe Paul didn't want Smith to begin with but wanted to retain Jimmy Dykes. Owner Powell Crosley turned thumbs down on "Jimmy Cigar" and Mayo was the interim sacrificial offering. Meanwhile, the Cincinnati "manager of the future" is second baseman Johnny Temple but they won't put him on the spot while he's still playing.

City Calls Meet Of DLS Leaders; No Details Given

A meeting of managers in the Desert Softball League has been called by the City Recreation Department in the wake of Tuesday's protest by the Desert Sun "Chi Chi team over alleged "poor officiating" by league's umpires.

The call for a meeting was aired shortly before Coachella Valley Savings and Loan took to the field last night and administered a 13-2 thumping to the California Water and Telephone Company team.

THE CALL FOR meeting did not denote the nature of the session's business and no two managers gave the same story of the call.

The Desert - Chi Chi manager was simply told there would "be a meeting in the clubhouse at the Polo Grounds at 7 p.m. It's important."

THE RECREATION Department did not indicate whether the current umpiring imbroglio was at cause or whether the league's five umpires would attend the meeting.

The department did not say that other "interested parties"—Little, Minor, Pony, Colt and semi-pro league representatives—would be invited although it was assumed the meeting was largely for softball representatives.

MAYO SMITH OUT, HUTCHINSON IN AS REDLEG BOSS

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—Lantern-jawed Freddie Hutchinson, who thinks the Cincinnati Reds are a "good" team that just "hasn't jelled," replaced Mayo Smith as manager of the Reds today in a move that everybody's been expecting for days.

The "open secret" that Smith was out and Hutchinson in was officially confirmed Wednesday night when general manager Gabe Paul of the Reds announced the switch.

MacKay Playing Poor But Moves Up With Olmedo

BAASTAD, Sweden (UPI)—The continued poor play of Barry MacKay perplexed Americans here today even though he and Alex Olmedo have advanced to the semi-final round in men's singles in the Baastad International Tennis Tournament.

MacKay, who was a semi-finalist in the recent Wimbledon championships, was upset here Tuesday in men's singles by fifth-ranked Norwegian Thorwald Moe and again failed to impress Wednesday as he and Olmedo defeated Moe and Jan Bibow of Norway in doubles, 6-4, 6-4, 7-5.

Olmedo, the newly-crowned Wimbledon champion from Peru, dominated the match although the 19-year-old Moe was again impressive, particularly in his net play.

The rotund Casper, who intends to rest about three weeks at his home here, said he hurt his back in the Flint Open in Michigan last week.

Water Company Seeks to Square Sears Tourney

Junior Police and Palm Springs Water Company Little League teams continued practice sessions here for tomorrow night's second—and possibly final—game in the Sears' Trophy tournament here.

Junior Police manager Walt Colglazier, whose charges won Monday's initial game by a 21-14 score, said that his team would be at full strength for tomorrow's big game.

Bruno Di Grandi, manager of the Water Company squad, said that his young players were eager to return to the tourney and were sure they would even the series in Friday's second game.

The tournament is sponsored by Sears Roebuck, which furnished a trophy annually to the team that wins the best two out of three series.

Becerra Nets Bantam Title With KO Win

Dethrones Halimi In Convincing Fight Before 15,100 Fans

By ALEX KAHN

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jose Becerra, 23-year-old two-handed puncher from Guadalajara, today was Mexico's authentic hero for his eighth-round knockout Wednesday night over Alphonse Halimi of France that brought him and his country the bantamweight championship.

Mexican pride had been injured by the defeat of its former bantamweight idol, Raul (Raton) Macias, in Halimi's first title defense here 18 months ago. But Becerra avenged that defeat by knocking out the champion in 2:02 of the eighth round.

IT WAS A CLEAR-CUT, clean victory in which Halimi was flat on his back, face up, as referee Tommy Hart tolled the full count.

Earlier in the round the French Algerian had gone down for a four count that signalled the end was near.

Halimi went in at 117, and Becerra at 117½ for the title bout in the new Los Angeles Memorial Sports Arena.

IT WAS SWEET revenge for Becerra. The bronzed challenger had fought on the same Halimi-Macias card and suffered a knockout by Dwight Hawkins after having been plunged into despair by the defeat of his idol.

Becerra recovered and went on to score 11 knockout victories for the right to challenge Halimi for the title. He did what Macias, now retired, could not do—nor any other boxer—he knocked Halimi down and then put him out for the count.

"I hit him with a good right to the body in the seventh," Becerra revealed after the bout. "And I could see his legs were folding. I knew I had him then."

Quast to Meet Gunderson in Western Amateur

CHICAGO (UPI)—Two former champions and two American Curtis Cup players were in the quarter-finals of the Women's Western Amateur golf championship today.

Feature match of the quarter-finals will match the two Curtis Cup players, Anne Quast, Everett, Wash., and Jo Anne Gunderson, Seattle, Wash., in a head-bumping which might spotlight the potential champion.

Miss Quast, who won the Western champion Barbara McIntire, Jupiter, Fla., Wednesday, 3 and 2, to avenge her loss in the finals of the 1958 event, and Miss Gunderson gained a 1-up triumph over Mrs. Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio.

JORDAN RISKS TITLE AGAINST TEEN-AGER IN OREGON TONIGHT

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Welterweight champion Don Jordan was a 12-5 favorite today to whip 19-year-old Denny Moyer in their scheduled 15-round scrap in the great outdoors here Friday at sundown.

Jordan, putting his title on the line against a youngster who never has known defeat, is the solid choice in the nationally-televised bout which will attract 8,000 fans to Portland Meadows race track.

Because Portland is on standard time, the fight will get under way at 6 p. m. In daylight, Jordan, who successfully defended his crown against former champion Virgil Atkins in his last outing, has been sharp in training and his punching has been stiffer than that of young Moyer.

CVCA Whips Security Bank By 17-1 Count

Payne Has Perfect Night Including Home Run Blast

The Coachella Valley Contractors Association Pony League team dealt India's Security Bank team an unmerciful 17-1 drubbing at Indio last night to continue its winning ways.

Jay Mead and Loren Barkley teamed up in a two-hit pitching job that found the Security batters handcuffed when it counted. Both young hurlers had trouble with walks, Mead passing five and Barkley yielding four free visas.

THE CVCA TEAM started with a rush in the first inning, making five hits—including a double by center fielder Paul Payne—do for nine runs.

NINE MORE hits provided seven runs in the fourth inning. Included were Payne's homer and a triple by Barkley and a double by catcher Ernie Reyes. Payne had four for one.

When Fido's Owner Jets To Europe, Fido Has Luxury

By ELLEN SAUNDERS
DESERT HOT SPRINGS—When Fido's owner shuts up his home and jets off to Europe, what happens to Fido?

If he has been wintering at the Smoke Tree Ranch, the Tamarisk Country Club or Thunderbird, most likely you'll find him luxuriating in air-conditioned comfort at DogTown USA.

"WE'VE GOT A full house," said energetic, personable Joe Dabbs, owner of DogTown. "Here's Old Charlie — about October he'll be rejoining his master, Charles R. Black, Jr., the New York insurance executive — and this is Chico, she belongs to Harriet Parsons, Louella's daughter. Harriet's so busy producing motion pictures that Chico is staying with us for awhile. She's almost 17 and that's pretty old for a poodle."

We've got a pregnant gal here right now," continued Dabbs, pointing to a tiny brown poodle. "Name's Cherie, she's Mrs. Harry Bernstein's dog."

"OUR SUMMER boarders usually stay the full four months but in the winter they just come and go. Liberate, now there's a nice guy, always invites me in for coffee when I pick up his dogs — he has a couple of toy poodles, Minuet and Mambo, that stay here off and on."

Dabbs, an Englishman who immigrated to Canada eight years ago, bought DogTown last year because he considered its facilities were excellent. Each dog has a tiled five by five kennel and his own 25 foot outdoor run.

"THE 30 KENNELS we have now just aren't enough," Dabbs explained, "so we are going to double the number and while we are about it, we are going to install some more cat facilities, since we can only accommodate eight now. Looks as if we might have to change our name, if we increase our cat population."

"I'm sold on this air and sunshine," confided Dabbs. "I thought Canada was great until I vacationed in Chicago. After that it seemed too much like England — you know, dreary, damp — no sun open on Sundays. My 1935 Ford got me as far as Los Angeles. I was down to my last six bucks when I found work at Dr. Nevin's Animal Hospital in Lakeview."

IT WAS AT DR. Jones Hospital in Beverly Hills that Dabbs began to groom dogs for television appearances. "You must have seen Mr. Adam, Jewell Lain's white poodle which appears on her shows. She used to bring him in regularly. And, of course, we groomed most of the movie stars' dogs — the cocker spaniel that goes everywhere with Shelly Winters — a couple of poodles belonging to Frank Sinatra and one that Eddie Cantor has. Out here we groom from 10 to 14 dogs each day. Most of them are local, but I have some customers who bring them in all the way from Los Angeles."

"But about that sunshine, I think it's just as good for dogs as for humans. Avis Earle — she owns the Earl of England kennels in Hollywood — sent us a dog which had had the best of medical care but was still unable to walk. We exercised her in water, gave her plenty of sunshine and in six weeks she was walking. Staggering, it's true, but actually walking."

"NOW I'VE DECIDED to install a hydro-therapy pool for dogs — the first of its kind anywhere. You know, dogs can develop various types of paralytic conditions, just as easily as humans. With hydrotherapy it should be possible in many instances to get a return of the nervous function before the muscles have a chance to atrophy.

IT'S CHOW TIME for Old Charlie, star boarder at Joe Dabbs' "Dogtown, U.S.A." Charlie, a spaniel owned by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Black Jr., of Thunderbird and New York, has been a regular Dogtown guest for the past four years. Which means that as senior citizen of Dogtown, Charlie is entitled to a few occasional luxuries, such as this afternoon snack offered by Dabbs. (Desert Sun Photo).

BRADLEY, THE BASSETT hound, is a comparative newcomer to the kennels of Dogtown, U.S.A., but that doesn't mean that Bradley's a stranger in this canine community. The sad-faced, 65-pound pup greets every potential ear-scratcher like a long-lost friend, which makes Dogtown proprietor Joe Dabbs a boon companion. Bradley, owned by Glen Faulkerson, of Palm Springs, is one of some two dozen dogs currently spending their vacations at Dogtown while their resort families travel elsewhere. (Sun Photo).

"Of course, such treatment will be given only on the recommendation of a veterinarian. It will probably be a few months before the pool is ready. We will also have our cold water swimming pool. Many of our dogs have been used to a pool of their own and they miss it."

"NOW THAT MY brother Peter has come over from England to help me," continued Dabbs, "we are going to turn this into the finest dog center in the world. We are equipped to give all types of training such as house-breaking, novice obedience and attack. However, we never accept dogs for training in attack unless we know that the owner will be able to handle the dog afterwards. Usually this type of training is required for motion picture work or for security patrol."

"Peter is an excellent cabinet maker and if Jo-Jo's mistress wants her to have a custom-made kennel or bed we will build it. We are going to sell all the accessories any well dressed dog

Dog Licensing Law to Become Effective Aug. 5

A county dog licensing ordinance adopted by the Board of Supervisors this week will become effective Aug. 5.

Provisions of the ordinance, approved by the board June 15, set the license fee for unspayed females at five dollars, and for spayed females and males three dollars. All dogs more than four months of age must be licensed.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for dog owners to permit their dog to run at large in any public park or public building or upon any public school grounds or near any bus stop, or to permit a female dog in heat to run at large at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fortner, accompanied by their grandchildren, eleven-year-old Linda and nine-year-old Vickie Fortner of Baldwin Park, returned Sunday from a three weeks motor trip. They went to Las Vegas, Nev., visited the Boulder Dam, through the Grand Canyon and the Petrified Forest of Arizona, into New Mexico and on to Colorado where they visited friends and relatives in Colorado Springs and Rocky Ford, and stopped at the many points of interest along the way.

In Kansas they visited the historic Dodge City Museum at Fort Hill Cemetery and the largest hand-dug well in the world at Greensburg, en route to eastern Kansas where they visited friends and relatives in the Fortners' former home in Fredonia, and others in Neodesha and Coffeyville. Returning to the desert they visited all the places of interest in Oklahoma, along the Texas Turnpike and other parts of Arizona. Sunday right Linda and Vickie returned to their Baldwin Park home.

Mr. and Mrs. Levan Saeger left last week for Lake Tahoe, where they have taken a house for a month or more.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hill, who closed their Hill's Cleaners for the summer, plan on leaving Friday for Colorado and Montana en route to Amery, Wis., to visit his mother, Mrs. Julia Henneman. Hill's Cleaners will open again the early part of September.

During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harding, owners of Cathedral Automatic Laundry, Mrs. Harold Brauer will be in charge. The Hardings will spend their vacation visiting in California, Oregon and Washington before returning Sept. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Berton Lamb (local contractor) their son, Lee, and daughter, Janice, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Sharp and daughter, Christine, spent the holiday weekend at the Colorado River where the Lambs have their trailer for the summer. A wiener bake on the beach celebrated Lees fourteenth birthday on July 4. Joining the family and their guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jackson and children, Ronnie and Jerry, of Santa Ana, who are trailer neighbors. Boating and water skiing were enjoyed during the holiday.

Guests this week at the Will Massie desert home in Flying "H" Estates are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Beiler who make their home in Long Beach. The Massies are expected back this weekend from a six weeks tour of Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jorgensen (Jorgensen Realty) and daughter, Judy, left Thursday afternoon to spend the holiday weekend in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Velma Schultz, who has been in England since April visiting her son, Charles, who is stationed with Douglas Aircraft near London, is now touring the continent and plans on visiting former Cathedral City resident, Mrs. Frieda McMillan, who is in Norway. Mrs. Schultz, whose home is in Torrance, spends the winters in Cathedral City to be near her daughter and family, the Berton Lambs.

After Mrs. Amelia Irvine closes her Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio Friday for the summer months, she will leave to join her husband, Bob, in Santa Monica. Mrs. Irvine plans on returning shortly after Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Thompson (he is a local painting contractor) and boys, Edward and Carl, are in Salt Lake City visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elmira Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Garner and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin LaSalle spent the holiday weekend in and around San Diego. Among other events of interest they enjoyed a cruise around the harbor.

PEOPLE MAKE A BUSINESS

You know a business by the people that represent it. Whether you judge it a "good company" or an inefficient one depends on the way it is operated, and the quality of the contacts with the employees.

Back in 1888, when the Palm Springs Water Co. was getting started, our people had little training for the job, but they had lots of foresight and determination. Today, the job of supplying an average 8,000,000 gallons of water per day has necessitated employment of persons with knowledge, experience and a high degree of responsibility. We have been fortunate in being able to engage the services of qualified, conscientious, responsible people who have remained with the company for years.

Every employee takes pride in being a part of our community service, and we are proud of them. Their constant wish is to serve you better.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: Would you let a daughter of yours marry a truck driver? My daughter has a weakness for truck drivers but I want her to find a nice local boy. This is the third truck driver she has gone with and this time she wants to get married. This coming and going doesn't strike me as much of a life. Will you please help me decide if I should let her marry this guy as long as she is living under my roof she has to do as I say. She is 27 years old.

MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: Truck drivers as a rule are responsible, sober, hard working lot. If your daughter knows him and his background well enough there is no reason why they can't be very happy.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Go to your local LEGAL AID SOCIETY. They will help you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old man who is married to a girl who is "married" to her mother. We've been married three years, but I am afraid unless she quits running to her mother we won't stay married much longer. She was born with a silver spoon in her mouth and her mother gives her everything she wants. Her mother is a widow and my wife is the only child. She tells her mother everything (and I do mean everything). When my wife gets the blues she'll go spend the night with her mother. Please tell me what to do.

ANDY

DEAR ANDY: It's not the "silver spoon" you have to worry about — it's the "silver cord". Your wife is immature, and her mother hasn't encouraged her to grow up. She should leave her mother long enough to visit a marriage counselor with you.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a great one for noticing the good points of all the other girls he sees. He notices in one minute if she has good legs, or if her mouth is sensuous, but I could step out of a beauty parlor with my hair dyed green, and he wouldn't notice a thing. How come?

NOT NOTICED

DEAR NOT: The "one in the window" always looks better. YOU'RE bought and paid for.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SORRY NOW": Next time SWALLOW those angry words. It's much better than having to eat them.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

First Board Of Equalization Hearing Held

Sitting in their first 1959 annual session as a board of equalization this week, the Board of Supervisors received seven complaints on assessed valuations of properties, but only one person appeared in defense of his complaint, Edwin Guy of Burbank, and his protest had not been received in time for review by the tax assessor so action was postponed for a week.

Action on the other six complaints was postponed to next week also, as consideration can be given only when the complainant or his representative appears personally before the board. The remaining dates for board of equalization sessions are July 13 and 20. The hour is 10 a.m.

Guy asked that the assessed valuation of $19,380 on lots he owns in the Perris area be reduced to $12,920. Of the seven protests the only one to come from a resident of the county was that of Clifford Stewart of Desert Hot Springs.

Eric L. Waite, county assessor, reported to the supervisors that this is the first year that the Riverside County assessment roll has reached a half billion dollars. The 1959 amount is $505,971,380, an increase of 9.48 per cent over the 1958 figure of $462,161,910.

Seven Troop 12 Members Pass Swim Exams

DESERT HOT SPRING — Seven members of Girl Scout Troop 12, Desert Hot Springs, have passed their advanced swimming examinations under the scrutiny of American Red Cross instructor John Kraft.

The girls were supervised by Ann Hosmer, Nancy Lane and Fern Norton in their training before Kraft tested them under ARC regulations. All seven of the girls will now commence work for their ARC Junior Life Saving award.

Tighter Gambling Law Requested

City Council members were this week confronted with the embarrassing fact that certain "skillful" aspects of gambling are still legal in the City of Palm Springs.

But don't shuffle the cards yet, Louie — Police Chief August Kettmann has asked the council to put a solid iron curtain around any game of chance that might tempt Village sporting men.

CITY ATTORNEY Jerry Bunker explained that a city ordinance currently prohibits only the game of draw poker. A state penal code prohibits games like dice, stud poker and similar types of gambling, but it does not affect "games of skill."

Now, Bunker pointed out, the city ordinance doesn't mention a word about low-ball poker or hoop-o, both of which are catalogued as games of skill, along with draw poker.

So, Chief Kettmann has asked for an immediate ordinance outlawing these sporting pastimes.

IN ADDITION, the council was asked to also include in its ordinance a provision stating that "spectators" at dice games — those individuals who are not actually down on their knees tossing the galloping dominoes — be just as liable to arrest as the participants.

This is regarded by Bunker as the most important part of the proposed ordinance, which will see council action probably next week. Bunker and Kettmann agree that the so-called spectators are more often than not participants who are either taking a breather or getting ready to join the boys in the betting ring. The way the current ordinance is worded, these "innocent" citizens are immune to arrest.

Let us quote on your next job!

IT'S GREAT TO HAVE A REGULAR JOB!

In our first message of this series we mentioned how our year round program provides regular employment. Year round employment attracts permanent, high-caliber citizens that are the life blood of any community, especially Palm Springs. Such people benefit the community because they are able to make long range plans. They invest in homes, in cars—they are good customers at all retail stores. They benefit our restaurants, our banks and our professional people. Their business helps provide more all year round employment for others.

Our program provides another benefit. This one is enjoyed by the buyers of our homes. Regular employment breeds loyalty and a loyal worker has more interest in his work. He has no fear of layoffs. He knows that his sole responsibility is to do a good job. He knows that his work must be up to standard.

In our case he knows our standard procedures, the way that we want things done, he gets into the swing of things. His work requires less supervision. He is more efficient. This efficiency is reflected in our being able to give better values to our home buyers and is one of the reasons why, in face of the higher and higher lumber prices and increased wages, we have been able to maintain our selling prices and hold the line against inflation. It is all part of our formula for success — "Give the people something better at a price and on terms they can afford."

Each week our message ends with an invitation to visit our various properties where we are building a bigger and better Palm Springs. We appreciate the fact that so many of you have accepted our invitation so keep coming. We are proud of our homes. It is always a pleasure to show them to you.
